

Say “Hi” to the DOK.fest München audience... your MESSAGE OF GREETING

In order to bring the festival feeling closer to our audience @home and to show who the filmmakers are, we would like to show a personal message of greeting before each film in our online edition. This can be the director / producer / protagonist – or all of them together. Therefore, we ask you to record a personal and individual greeting message and send it to us by 1 April to the following e-mail address:

Ute Bolmer: editor@dokfest-muenchen.de

DOK.fest München sees itself as a platform for exchange while prioritizing the safety and well-being of all participants. In its ethical principles, DOK.fest München strives for fair and respectful treatment within society as a whole in order to strengthen plurality, diversity and solidarity. We therefore kindly ask you to keep the focus of your video message on the film itself and refrain from making politically controversial statements.

We know you are professionals when it comes to film production, but sometimes it can be hard to put yourself in perspective – that's why we would like to point out the following to you:

- Please introduce yourself at the beginning with your name, function and film title
- Avoid backlighting (your faces should be bright and easy to see)
- Avoid background noises (it's best to find a quiet place)
- Language: German or English
- Length: maximum 2 minutes (it can also be shorter)

We are happy about creative content. However, we have put together a few questions for you to use as a guideline if you like:

- Why did you make this film?
- When was the starting point for this project?
- What was the biggest challenge in making your film?
- Who did you make the film for and what do you want the audience to take away?
- What does participation at DOK.fest München 2024 mean to you?
- Who do you want to say "thank you" to?
- What do you wish for the future (not only cinematic wishes)?

Attention! Please do not spoil!
